

Rev. Dr. Straton, Another Big Air Fundamentalist, ExpressLinerLost Dies in Sanitarium With Five Persons

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 29 (AP).—Winter, closing down over the mountains which form the backbone of the continental divide, today concealed beneath a blanket of lowering storm clouds and snow the fate of a Western Air Express liner, lost with five persons aboard.

The giant tri-motored plane, with two passengers and a crew of three, disappeared yesterday morning somewhere along the 180-mile stretch of the Western Air Express route between Navajo, Ariz., and Albuquerque.

It is believed to have been forced down by bitter weather which swept the Rocky Mountains yesterday, bringing snow and rain which caused the Western Air Express to order all planes grounded. The order came too late to halt the missing plane at Kingman, Ariz., which it left yesterday at 8:24 a. m. mountain time.

Due to Albuquerque at noon, the ship was last sighted over Navajo at 10:34 a. m. at Piatto, Ariz., a few miles east of Navajo, a Santa Fe railroad inspector said he heard a plane in the clouds at 11 a. m. but could not see it.

The plane was bound for Alhambra, a suburb of Los Angeles, to Kansas City.

Those aboard were: Dr. A. W. Ward, San Francisco, nationally known dental authority, enroute to Fort Worth, Texas, to fill a speaking engagement.

W. E. Merz, Mount Vernon, N. Y., enroute to his home.

James E. Dolis, Los Angeles, chief pilot.

Allan C. Barrie, Burbank, Cal., co-pilot.

R. L. Britton, Los Angeles, formerly of Denver, steward.

Officials of the company expressed hope that Dolis had been able to fly over the Navajo Indian reservation, east of the point where he was last seen, before being forced to land.

On the eastern side of the Arizona-New Mexico boundary they believed Dolis could find numerous emergency landing places.

Despite hopes of officials that the plane was safe on some isolated plateau with one of the pilots or the steward making his way to means of communication to notify headquarters, planes were prepared today to search the rough territory thoroughly.

Reports indicated that it had been hit by the first snow of winter.

The air hunt is to cover in large part the territory in which the Transcontinental Air Transport's liner City of San Francisco was lost less than two months ago.

The City of San Francisco was found wrecked, its five passengers and three crew members dead, on the slope of Mount Taylor in New Mexico with indications that it had run into a storm.

George Rice, Western Air Express pilot, who located the wreck of the City of San Francisco, volunteered at Albuquerque to take out the first searching plane to look for the missing plane.

Rice was under orders to fly within 100 feet of the ground if he found it possible to do so. Other aircraft are to be sent from Los Angeles if the lost liner is not located immediately.

First Mishap in Three Years.

Kansas City, Oct. 29 (AP).—A tri-motored sister ship of the Western Air Express liner missing in the mountains of New Mexico or Arizona was to leave here this morning to aid in the search which got under way at daybreak.

Western Air Express officials here said they had every hope that the chief pilot of the plane, James A. Dolis, had been able to land safely in one of many open spots east of the New Mexico-Arizona boundary. They said disappearance of the "113" as the missing plane is known, was the first mishap in three years, in which planes of the line have flown 3,100,000 miles.

Was Returning Home From Japan.

New York, Oct. 29 (AP).—W. E. Merz, one of the passengers in the missing Western Air Express liner, was on his way to his home at Mt. Vernon, N. Y., after a business trip to Japan. He is 34 years old, unmarried, and is employed as a wool buyer for a New York firm. He landed in San Francisco Friday after spending eleven months in Japan.

WIFE MISSING, HUSBAND FINDS NOTE LEFT BY HER.

Charles Jansen of 18 Foxhall avenue, reported to the police department Monday evening that his wife, Catherine, 26 years old, had left home about noon Monday and that he had seen nothing of her since. He said she had left a note pinned to his shirt requesting him to take good care of their little daughter.

Sandino to Visit Mexico.

Mexico City, Oct. 29 (AP).—After living for several months in Yucatan, Augustino Sandino, Nicaraguan rebel leader, has planned a visit to this city with the hope of being received by President Portes Gil, according to an announcement by his friends here. Preparations are being made for Sandino's arrival late this week or early next week. Sandino left Nicaragua some time ago and, having been granted permission to reside in Mexico, took up quarters in Merida after a brief visit to Vera Cruz. He arrived coming to the capital at that time.

Charles Fierman was removed from the Park Lane on Broadway to the Kingston Hospital in the ambulance on Monday, and John Scott was removed from the Kingston Hospital to 38 Broadway.

Efficiency, Reduced Taxes, Low Bonded Indebtedness

Voters, do not forget that the present administration has been a strictly business one.

The city is now managed like any large corporation.

Voters, do not forget that the tax rate for 1929 was reduced $1.96 per thousand.

This reduction included in the budget all bond and note redemptions. Nothing carried over.

Voters, do not forget that the bonded indebtedness of the city, exclusive of water bonds, is less than $600,000, against a bonded debt limit of more than $2,000,000.

A vote for Dempsey and Everett is a vote for the continuation of an honest and efficient administration of city affairs.

Senate May Publicly Rebut Senator Bingham

Washington, Oct. 29 (AP).—The possibility of the Senate publicly rebuking Senator Bingham of Connecticut for the employing an official of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association to advise him on tariff questions arose today from the hubbub of charges and counter-charges provoked by that incident.

A resolution of condemnation, privileged under Senate rules, and demanding immediate consideration, was contemplated by Norris of Nebraska, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, under the authority of which the Caraway committee made a thorough investigation of the Bingham affair as a part of its general inquiry into lobbies and lobbyists.

Meanwhile, word spread that an amendment would be offered designed to remove the Connecticut senator from his place on the Senate Finance Committee.

The Caraway group's inquiry disclosed that Bingham put Charles L. Eyanon, assistant to the president of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association, upon the government payroll as his secretary.

In that capacity, Eyanon attended the executive sessions of the majority members of the Senate Finance Committee, then engaged in the consideration of rate schedules to be embodied in the Tariff bill now before the Senate.

In addition, an office memorandum of the Manufacturers' Association organization was introduced, showing that the association possessed information on the trend of the committee's activities, together with a letter to Eyanon from E. Kent Hubbard, president of the association, which said that more had been accomplished than had been "bargained" for.

Completing its inquiry into the Bingham-Eyanon episode, the Caraway Committee submitted to the Senate a report of its findings and with its introduction, members of the committee took occasion to speak on the case, censuring Bingham severely.

Bingham replied to his antagonists yesterday, charging that the committee had been "framed" against an ally of the administration and had treated him "unfairly" when he appeared before it. He declared the purpose of the group had been to "befoul" him with political slime by the twisting and torturing of flimsy evidence.

By turn, four members of the committee, then arose and replied to the statements of the Connecticut senator, often employing language as severe as that which he himself had used. These included Senator Robinson of Indiana, a member of the administration Republican group, who had been referred to by Bingham as the administration's only friend on the committee.

Robinson added his own condemnation to that of his colleagues, asserting that he did not approve of Bingham's action, that the Republican party did not approve of it, nor, in his opinion, the American people.

Late in the day, Senator Norris announced his intention of introducing a resolution calling upon the Senate to express its opinion as a whole on the Bingham affair. Its introduction meant consideration by the Senate for the first time in 27 years of a measure condemning one of its members.

Meanwhile, Chairman Caraway planned to go ahead with the committee hearings, until the introduction of the Norris proposal. Joseph R. Grundy of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association and the American Tariff League, was recalled for continued questioning.

The regular monthly meeting of the Home for the Aged will be held on Thursday afternoon of this week at 3 o'clock at the home on Green street.

Drunken Driver Fined $200; His Auto Injured Man

F. G. Hafer of Grant Street Is Fined $200 for Driving Car While Intoxicated—His Auto Struck Burnett Churchwell, Fracturing His Skull.

Burnett Churchwell of 161 Smith avenue is confined to the Kingston Hospital with a fractured skull and other injuries, while Frederick G. Hafer of 81 Grant street, who drove the car that struck Churchwell, was fined $200 by Judge Shufeldt in police court this morning when Hafer pleaded guilty to driving a car while intoxicated.

Hafer was operating his Nash sedan on Dederick street on Monday and claimed that Churchwell stepped out into the road in front of his car and was knocked down. The police department was notified of the man being struck by the automobile and the city ambulance removed Mr. Churchwell to the hospital, while Hafer was placed under arrest on the charge of driving a car while intoxicated.

At the hospital today it was stated that Mr. Churchwell's condition was fairly good. He is an employee of Everett & Treadwell.

Negro Fined $5.

Sonny Brandon, a negro of Ulster Landing, arrested for public intoxication on Monday, was fined $5 in police court today.

Two Men Die at Railroad Crossing in New Paltz

A railroad accident at the Wallkill railroad crossing in New Paltz Monday night claimed the lives of Arnold Peterson, 26, and Walter Sutherland, 23, both of that village. The men died on the way to the Kingston Hospital to which institution they were ordered by physicians who were unable to relieve them of their suffering owing to the seriousness of their injuries.

Peterson and Sutherland were drawing gravel from a pit near the Wallkill crossing. As they were crossing the tracks with their truck the Wallkill motor car on its way from Gardiner to New Paltz, struck their vehicle, it is said, hurling the men about 15 feet and sending their truck down an embankment.

They were ordered to the Kingston Hospital, but neither lived to receive treatment. Coroner W. Norman Conner held an autopsy and found the men badly injured internally. State Troopers in charge of Corporal Baker are investigating the case.

SENATE AND PRESIDENT HONOR BURTON'S MEMORY

Washington, Oct. 29 (AP).—The Senate and President Hoover moved promptly today to honor the memory of Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio, whose death last night ended an illustrious public career.

At a brief three minute session, the Senate adopted a resolution expressing "profound sorrow" and arranged for a state funeral in the Senate chamber at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon, and directed Vice President Curtis to appoint a committee of 26 members to accompany the body to Cleveland.

While this was taking place at the capitol, announcement was made at the White House that President Hoover, long a friend of the late senator, would attend the services in the Senate chamber, the first state funeral accorded a senator in recent years.

Congratulates Supervisors on Hospital Start

To Mr. Edward Young, Chairman, and to the Committee on Tuberculosis Hospital, and to the Board of Supervisors of Ulster County.

The Medical Society of the County of Ulster has learned that developments in regard to a new Tuberculosis Hospital have reached the stage of advertising for bids for a new hospital. The president and the society have deemed it fitting to appoint the undersigned committee to congratulate the board of supervisors for this development, and to urge a speedy consummation of the plans.

The Ulster County Medical Society has for some years pointed out the need for a new hospital. This need has grown with the years, until at the present time it is acute and critical.

The county has long since outgrown the meagre facilities afforded by the earlier attempts to control the ravages of tuberculosis in our county.

The physicians of the county because of their work among the sick, have long recognized the crying need for a new hospital. Almost daily the practicing physician in Ulster county is confronted with the serious problem as to the disposition of a case of tuberculosis. But in addition, all the thoughtful and community-minded citizens of the county have been behind the movement leading to an adequate hospital. We know of no dissenting voice in this regard.

It is unnecessary to elaborate upon the facts that have already been brought out on numerous occasions; that there are probably one thousand active cases of tuberculosis in the county at the present time; that our death rate of over one hundred cases a year is abnormally high; that our present hospital of twenty-two beds is entirely inadequate and unsuitable; that it is filled to capacity and with a waiting list; that our cases are not being cared for in time; that our contacts are not being properly handled with the resulting menace to all of our citizens, especially to our children.

We realize that the deterring factor has been finances, but we believe that it is uneconomical to allow the ravages of tuberculosis to go unchecked in our community, especially since the cost of an adequate tuberculosis program is not prohibitive, and is not comparatively great.

As citizens and taxpayers as well as physicians, we believe that we are representing our fellow citizens when we urge you to go ahead with the construction of a new hospital.

There have been numerous delays and disappointments but we hail the recent development and we petition you not to let anything deter you from speedily following out your humanitarian endeavors, the recommendations of the medical profession, and the wishes of the people at large of Ulster county.

3 Boy Bandits Are on Trial in Supreme Court

Charged With Holding up Guests at Tennenbaum's Loch Sheldrake Casino in Sullivan County—Forty Extra Jurors Drawn.

Three boy bandits went to trial Monday in Supreme Court before Judge Russell charged with robbery, first degree, in having in August 1928 held up the guests at Tennenbaum's Loch Sheldrake Casino in Sullivan county. At the time of the robbery there were five youths in the gang, one of them is still at large, a second is dead, shot by a deputy sheriff at the time of the hold-up, and the three now on trial.

Two of the lads now on trial were arrested and returned to Sullivan county where they entered pleas of guilty to the robbery under section 222 of the law. Under that plea they were sentenced to Dannemora State prison for a term of from 15 to 20 years. However, when section 222 of the law was found unconstitutional the lads were returned to Sullivan county for indictment.

They were indicted for robbery, first degree, and then after having once pleaded guilty they decided to enter pleas of not guilty to the indictment and stand trial. Their former plea of guilty having been on information filed with the court was given wide publicity in Sullivan county and Ellsworth Baker, who appears for the two defendants, decided to ask for a change of venue.

The case was transferred to Ulster county by Judge Russell for trial on the grounds that Sullivan county jurors would be prejudiced against the men on account of their former plea of guilty under information.

Forty Extra Jurors Drawn.

Monday afternoon the case was taken up for trial and all afternoon was spent in getting six jurors. Then the panel was exhausted and 40 extra jurors were drawn to be present in court this morning.

All three defendants are young boys. The defendants are Charles Calebreli, indicted under the name of Frank Scino, Joseph Scire and Alexander Moses. Scire was not apprehended until after the other two had been sent up to Dannemora. All three were picked up in New York city by detectives and returned to Sullivan county. A fourth one was also picked up in New York and was returned to Sing Sing prison from which institution he was out on parole. He later was discharged from that institution and returned to New York city and is now wanted by New York detectives for murder in shooting a man whom he believed had given the police information. The man still at large is Alphonso Restivo, alias Joe Rivera.

Story of the Hold-up

The story of the hold-up as told following the affair was that five young men arrived at the Loch Sheldrake Casino in a car in August 1928. While some 300 people were dancing and making merry the five men with drawn guns entered the place and proceeded to rob the guests of valuables. Mike Steiglitz, who was employed at the Casino, and a deputy sheriff, watched the operation from behind a counter. When he had a chance he blazed away with his gun. One of the bandits dropped while the other four fled to their car and disappeared. The injured man seeking a chance to escape dragged himself to a window and attempted to escape but a second shot from the gun of the Casino employee dropped him. The injured man was found to be fatally injured and was rushed to a Liberty hospital and the authorities notified. Before he died he told the names of his four companions and a search was begun to locate them. All of the youths were from New York and the New York police were asked to help. Detectives who knew the young men by reputation were not long in locating their men and bringing three of them back.

The prosecution is represented by District Attorney Gardner Leroy and Assistant District Attorney Birmingham of Sullivan county with District Attorney Frederick G. Traver assisting in the selection of a jury. Mr. Traver is conducting the examination of the jurors for the prosecution.

The defendants Charles Calebreli or Frank Scino and Joseph Scire are represented by Ellsworth Baker and Alexander Moses is represented by Leo H. Kuzner of New York city. All three are being tried together although Moses claims a separate defense.

Masked Marvel Here Wednesday.

The "Masked Marvel" accomplished his latest feat in this city on Wednesday, October 30, instead of October 31. The change in dates was caused by the "Masked Marvel's" entrance in a tournament at Atlantic City. It was announced late today.

DERRENBACHER STREET MAN REPORTED MISSING.

It was reported to the police department Monday evening that Robert H. Yerdon had been missing from his home since October 7. Mr. Yerdon is 35 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 120 pounds.

New York, Oct. 29 (AP).—A wide-open break in prices at the opening of today's stock market, representing the wholesale dumping of weakened marginal accounts, was quickly followed by a brisk rally which cut down, or wiped out, many of the early declines, which ran from $1 to $15 a share.

The total stock sales in the first half hour were 3,259,800 shares, or larger than any previous full hour's sales on record.

Wide open breaks also took place on the New York curb market. Electric Bond and Share, which ran up close to $200 a share in the recent wild orgy of speculation, opened with a block of 50,000 shares at $50.25, off $34.75, and then rebounded to $70 a share. American Superpower dropped $7.62 1/2 to $17.50 and Cities Service opened with a block of 115,000 shares at $24.87 1/2.

Some selling took place on the first rally, but strong resistance was apparent at the opening levels, and few of the leading issues broke through their initial prices.

Cities Service on the New York curb market was a conspicuous exception, falling to $22.50 a share, or less than one-third the price prevailing less than three weeks ago.

Throw in Supporting Orders.

The action of the market indicated that bankers stood aside until the worst of the weakened speculative accounts had been cleaned up. It then threw supporting orders into the market to prevent a complete demoralization of the market.

Two significant developments took place before the opening. The official call money renewal rate, which is usually announced after 10:30 a. m., was set at 5 per cent before the opening of the market, as against a renewal rate of 6 per cent yesterday, and F. B. Keech and Company, one of the large commission houses, announced that margin requirements had been reduced to 25 per cent as a result of the recent break.

These developments helped to revive confidence which had been badly shaken as a result of the disastrous breaks in the last few days.

Wall street has never witnessed such a wild opening as today's. Practically all of the leading issues opened with blocks of 10,000 to 50,000 shares, with the average declines running close to $5 a share.

Bankers in Confidence.

Leading bankers again conferred in the offices of J. P. Morgan and Company in the early afternoon. The conferees included Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the National City Bank; Albert H. Wiggin, chairman of the Chase National Bank; Seward Prosser, president of the Bankers' Trust Company, and George F. Baker, Jr., of the First National Bank.

BROOKHART FEARS FOR "BANKS ALL OVER THE COUNTRY"

Washington, Oct. 29 (AP).—Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, predicted today that if the severe decline of stocks prices in Wall Street continued "banks all over the country" would go into bankruptcy.

The Iowa, who has bills pending proposing radical revision of the Federal Reserve Law and prohibition of loans by banks for speculative purposes, said a large percentage of money advanced to the brokers came from banks outside New York, who would lose tremendous amounts of money if prices for stocks continued to go down.

He added that what he described as the "Panic in Wall Street" might lead to a "General Business Panic" of far-reaching consequences.

HOLDS SUPERINTENDENT RESPONSIBLE FOR REPORTS

New York, Oct. 29 (AP).—Supreme Court Justice Arthur S. Tompkins, presiding at the trial of Frank H. Warder, resigned state banking superintendent charged with accepting bribes to neglect state examinations of the defunct City Trust Company, said today he would charge the jury that Warder "was primarily responsible for all examination reports."

The court made this announcement during the testimony of Samuel Ranch, bank examiner, who last investigated the books of the City Trust, owned by the late Francesco M. Ferrari, who has been identified as paying thousands to Warder to have his enterprises free of official scrutiny.

James Murphy For Supervisor

James M. Murphy, who has been a resident of the Sixth Ward for many years, is the Republican candidate for supervisor in that ward.
Mr. Murphy has been successfully engaged in the undertaking business for many years with undertaking parlors on Broadway, near McEntee street.

Mr. Murphy has always taken an active interest in the affairs of the Sixth ward, and is thoroughly familiar with conditions there. The Sixth ward needs an able representative in the board of supervisors and the voters of that ward will make no mistake in selecting Mr. Murphy as the representative of the ward.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

Cambridge, Mass.—Arnold Morween of Harvard evidently doesn't intend to let his team look as bad against Florida as it did against Dartmouth. He started off yesterday by sending four varsity players to the scrub team then replacing Tommy Gilligan, regular halfback, with one of his "ponies," Ed May.

Annapolis, Md.—Navy expects to have another big gun ready to fire against Pennsylvania. Johnny Gar-non, regular quarterback last year, is in condition to play again and will start his first game of the season against the Quakers.

Philadelphia.—After a poor showing this season, Lou Gehrig has started all over again with his Penn team. He sent them to the tackling dummies for a workout yesterday.

New York.—Frank Foley, Fordham tackle, caused the Bootmakers a lot of trouble when he hurt his lastest. Foley had to have a special pair of reinforced shoes made, one of them size 13½, the other 14½.

Providence, R. I.—Injuries and late classes have been giving Brown a lot of trouble in his practice sessions. Coaches McLaughry, Mihal and Towle had to take places in the varsity backfield yesterday to get in a tough football game with the scrubs.

Ithaca, N. Y.—The noted gloom bearer, Gil Dobie, has a new one for his Cornell squad. With two weeks to prepare for Columbia after beating Princeton, Dobie apparently has nothing to fear, but he says over-confidence may give the Red trouble.

Hanover, N. H.—It has been officially decided that the losers' goalposts are legitimate spoils of football war. Harry Wamsage, supervisor of Dartmouth Athletics, offered to pay for the Harvard posts carried away by Dartmouth's rooters but the reply was that they had been charged to profit and loss.

New York.—Columbia may have to face Cornell Saturday without a regular fullback. Both Joe Stanczyk, the first string man, and Ed Hall, his substitute, are injured. Hall's wrist was broken in the Williams game and he will not be able to play again
this season.

Pittsburgh.—Pitt was one team which profited by the tie between Indiana and Ohio State Saturday.
The Panther scouts brought back a complete set of Ohio plays to use in practice this week.

Every One Knows Alderman Fox

One of the best known members of Kingston's common council is Alderman Henry Fox of the Fifth ward, who is again the Republican candidate to succeed himself as a member of the city's legislative body.

Alderman Fox has ably represented the Fifth ward in the common council for the past six years, and his record has been such that he again proved the unanimous choice of his party for the office of alderman.

From the experience he has gained as a member of the common council he is exceptionally well qualified to represent his ward. There are few men who are better or more favorably known in the Fifth ward than Alderman Fox and since he has been serving that ward as its representative he has proven honest and capable.

Reputation

The high reputation of SALADA has been earned by a standard of superb quality.

"SALADA"
TEA
"Fresh from the Gardens"

No "Instruments of the Devil" Now! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

With the introduction of machinery man-power feared it was to be supplanted. By the force of AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE this ancient prejudice disappeared. Our modern "machine age" brings happiness and prosperity.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobacco.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"— LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

TUNE UP—The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, every Sunday night, over a coast-to-coast network of the R. C. E.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobacco—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan,
"It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

THE JUDICIARY AND POOLS.

The people of this judicial district have always shown discrimination in the selection of judges. Such names as those of Parker, Chase, Cochran, Herrick and Chester have set a standard for the bench which has not been surpassed for high character, ethics and eminent ability anywhere in the State. The public need, in what appears to be an era of crime, is men on the bench who are of unquestioned character, with courage to discharge that most important trust, the administration of justice. This need is more vital at this time than ever before.

The important question is whether Justice McNamee should be selected by the electorate for a fourteen year term in that office. He was appointed Justice of the Supreme Court by Governor Roosevelt, but a short time after the Governor took office. There are those who believe the Governor was unacquainted with the acts and character of his appointee, and that he appointed McNamee as a reward for standing for his party in defeat. It cannot be possible that the Governor knew that McNamee so recently as 1926 and 1927 had been the attorney for several men indicted and punished for operating a gambling pool in Columbia county. The Governor could not have known that Judge McNamee, the attorney for Meenan, who claimed to be the owner of the pool plant, had induced the sheriff of the county to surrender the evidence which was necessary in the trial of the gambling indictments. For this act Judge McNamee was severely censured by the Appellate Division. The Governor could not have had knowledge that after such illegal effort to take the possession of the evidence from the custody of the law, vendors of the baseball and stock pool tickets were indicted, and that Judge McNamee represented them until they pleaded guilty and were sentenced.

To its shame, can it be said of this judicial district, that the county of Albany is controlled politically by Edward J. O'Connell, the chairman of the Albany Democratic County Committee, the brother of Dan O'Connell who was indicted and pleaded guilty in Boston in 1927 to the illegal use of the mails in connection with pool frauds; the brother of Dan O'Connell who was committed for a contempt in refusing to answer questions, in relation to the fraudulent operation of baseball and other pools when before a Federal grand jury in New York.

It is strange that McNamee should be chosen as the candidate of the Democratic party for so high an office, when there are so many fine Democratic lawyers in the district. Why was the defender of the pool miscreants and the lawyer whose conduct was condemned by the Appellate Division first appointed and then nominated for so great an office? It is significant that Roscoe Irwin, likewise the lawyer for pool operators, who were convicted and are serving terms in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, should be an innocent worker for Judge McNamee's election, and that he, Irwin himself, is looking forward to a like nomination next year?

Is the nomination as Justice of the Supreme Court the reward for defending those parasites who have been indicted and convicted for illegal use of the mails, and for fraudulent operation of lotteries? Is the influence of the criminal element in our judicial district so great, that it can select the members of the Supreme Court?

Singular it is, that the magistrate, out of whose custody McNamee, by a misuse of the process of the court, took the proof of the crime of lottery, was John C. Tracy, the Republican candidate for Justice of the Supreme Court. It is to Judge Tracy's credit that he resisted the illegal effort of McNamee. It is further to the credit of Judge Tracy that he obtained no responsibility but fearlessly stood up to his duty and performed it until the accused were convicted and punished.

The Governor may have been misled in his appointment. The people of the judicial district, however, will more closely scrutinize the character of the candidates for this great office. They will see to it that the tradition of this district for upright judges is maintained. They will not choose, to sit in the exalted position of Justice of the Supreme Court, a defender of gamblers and cheats; a lawyer who has abused the process of the court or sought to take from the custody of the law the evidence of crime. Rather will they choose a man who has exerted his efforts to enforce the law and punish its infractions. Can a discriminating electorate fail to choose Judge Tracy?

Joseph A. Joyce, the well known retail milk dealer, has been selected as the Republican candidate for alderman of the Tenth ward. Mr. Joyce is well known in that ward, and there is no question but that he will make good as a member of the common council. He is well acquainted with the needs of the ward and can be depended upon to work always for the interests of the ward he represents.

Edward M. Stanbrough, the Republican candidate for supervisor in the Twelfth ward, is a man who has proven himself capable of ably representing that ward in the county legislature. Mr. Stanbrough's record is such that there is no question but that he will again be chosen to represent his ward in the board of supervisors.

TEAM WORK TO CURE ASTHMA.

It would seem that the medical profession has determined to preserve the lives of human beings irrespective of the time, study, and money that it may cost.

And so you see the tuberculosis, the cancer, the heart, the rheumatism organizations, all working at full speed.

And now another common but distressing ailment is not being allowed to torture mankind.

I refer to asthma. In England there is the Asthma Research Council which has been formed at the earnest request of sufferers from this ailment. At Guy's Hospital, London, a combination of physicians, specialists in their own individual line, is at work. There is a physician doing general medical work, a chemist, a bacteriologist (one who specializes in organisms), a nose and throat specialist, a "mind" specialist, and a specialist in the study of how to prevent or lessen the effects of communicable ailments. This makes a team of seven specialists whose sole object is to get at the cause of asthma and then its cure.

Patients thus undergo examination by these seven specialists, and investigation has already disclosed that there is a deficient supply of certain elements in the blood of these asthma sufferers.

Investigations are being conducted also at Great Ormond Street Hospital for Sick Children where asthma is being attacked at its simplest and most curable stage.

The fact that asthma is found together with periodic vomiting, one-sided headache, epilepsy, and certain skin ailments is being investigated. At the London Clinic physical methods of treatment including breathing medicated preparations, ultra-violet rays, diathermy (electrical vibrations), and breathing exercises, are being investigated.

At King's College it is proposed to appoint a research worker to study how asthma can be produced artificially and what drugs relieve.

The London Hospital is studying the effect of X-rays in the treatment of asthma.

You will agree that this systematic study of the cause and treatment of asthma is more than likely to give relief to that percentage of cases which has not already attained a cure.

Hallowe'en Party At West Park

West Park, Oct. 21.—A large costume masquerade party to celebrate Hallowe'en will be held at the home of Mrs. Alice Dumont and in the school house in West Park on Saturday evening, November 2, at 8 p. m. The public is invited. Mrs. Dumont's house stands directly behind the school house on the main pike.

Great preparations are in progress. All the witches in the countryside seem to be assembling there. If one follows the crowd next Saturday night he will see them in the light of the many jack-o'-lanterns that will be swinging from the old trees about the place. Perhaps they will be peering out from their broom sticks, with their black cats humped up and crouched behind them. The oldest and most famous witch of them all has promised to stop riding long enough to tell fortunes. Owls and bats will scratch and claw in the shadows and ghosts, goblins and specks of all sorts will be in the chimney of the big fireplace. Safely inside the school house there will be dancing and a concert by a three-

Chapter II

PETE ANHEIM

WHILE Barbara, oppressed by a miserable feeling of loneliness, was slowly retiring to her bedroom, a noisy celebration filled Bill Foster's apartment.

Bill Foster was saying for the hundredth time, his arm lovingly around Rita's neck:

"I'm proud of you. That song of yours is a wow. My, didn't it get a hand—thanks a lot, of course, to this little lady here."

"Thanks everything to her," interrupted Ray.

"Boh," cried Rita across the table. "Even you don't believe most of the show, she stuck her head through the trap door and whispered to Ray.

"I want to see you after the show tonight. I'm just bursting to tell you something and it needs a lot of will power to keep it choked down."

The evening dragged, seemed interminable to Rita, although the "Criteria Blues" went over better than ever. She could hardly wait for the moment when she would be facing Ray across a table. It didn't matter where, telling him the news. In her mind she had the scene pictured clearly.

His face would change from dumb bewilderment to incredulous joy, his hands would shoot out, grasping hers. Then they would plan the details. At the thought of that Rita executed a little pirouette in the dressing room and chuckled so audibly that Delaney Grey, the Charleston dancer, exclaimed:

"My, something has got into you tonight, Rita. Anything to do with that new sweetie of yours—the fellow with the sax? You aren't thinking of carrying him to the altar?"

"Don't be absurd..." Rita crimsoned and flicked powder indiscriminately over her face. How absurdly sentimental were girls like Delaney! ... But, all the same,

Rita Gilmere's captivating personality both charmed and amazed Barbara.

Then, springing up from the table and seizing Ray by the hand, "Let's give them some of those new tunes of yours—I want Pete to hear them. Wake up, Pete, and show some enthusiasm."

Pete Anheim had arrived in New York that afternoon from Ohio. Tall, thin, he had iron-gray hair and humorous, understanding eyes. Now they were smiling across at Rita.

He had known her from her childhood. Then, an inquiring, raven-headed kid. Ten years later he had first asked her to marry him. But she had laughed at the idea—saw with a dream of the inevitable handsome young prince.

He had laughed, too, but he had never lost track of her, running up to New York whenever he could be spared from the huge factory he controlled.

Earlier that evening at the club, upon introducing Ray, Rita had said laughingly:

"This is Pete Anheim, my butter and egg man."

The two men laughed as they shook hands. But Ray had been conscious of the other's close scrutiny.

Now, his eyes on Ray at the piano, Pete wondered if this tall dark fellow might not be the fairy prince for whom Rita had waited. For the past five years he had been schooling himself for the moment when her dream man should appear. Now, if this were he, there remained only for him to do his utmost in helping them both. Lately an opportunity had come his way by which Rita might benefit.

He wondered if Ray might not be brought into the scheme as well. Undoubtedly his stuff was good. He chuckled softly to himself.

Strange to have the role of would-be lover transformed over night into that of Fairy Godfather!

The music ended abruptly, repeated beatings on the ceiling having become too violent to be longer, with safety, ignored. Pete caught Rita's hand and held it, drawing her down onto his knees. Pulling her head towards his he whispered:

"Lunch with me tomorrow, Rita. I've something important to discuss with you."

Rita literally pranced into the Golden Dollar Club the following evening, such as though she had been blown in on a cyclone. She threw a kiss to the doorman, whisked as she put on her make-up, then, just before the commencement of the show, she stuck her head through the trap door and whispered to Ray.

"I want to see you after the show tonight. I'm just bursting to tell you something and it needs a lot of will power to keep it choked down."

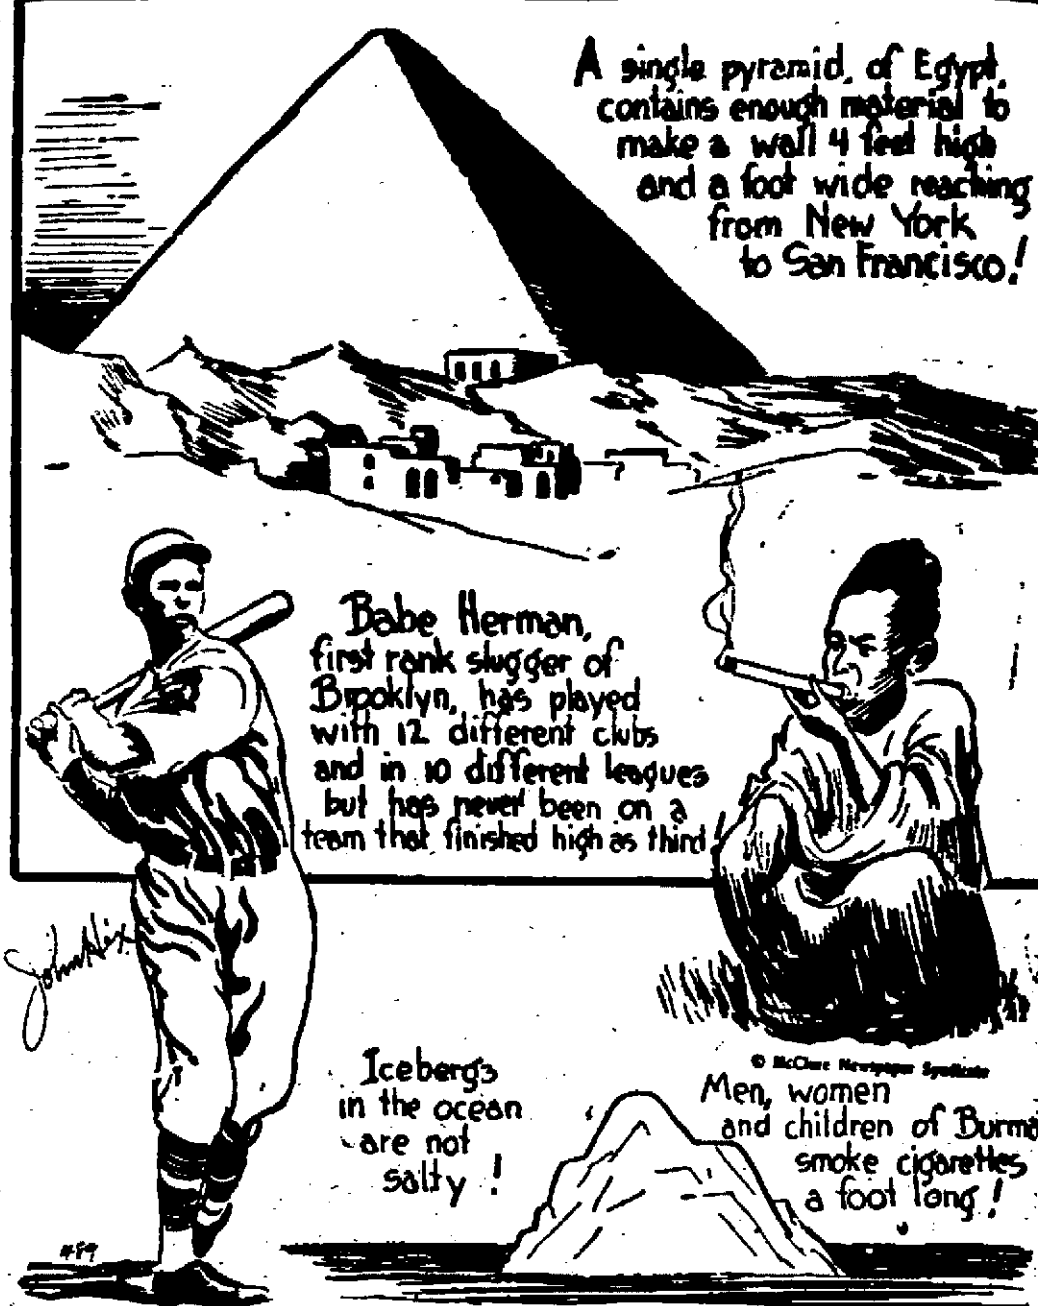

The evening dragged, seemed interminable to Rita, although the "Criteria Blues" went over better than ever. She could hardly wait for the moment when she would be facing Ray across a table. It didn't matter where, telling him the news. In her mind she had the scene pictured clearly.

His face would change from dumb bewilderment to incredulous joy, his hands would shoot out, grasping hers. Then they would plan the details. At the thought of that Rita executed a little pirouette in the dressing room and chuckled so audibly that Delaney Grey, the Charleston dancer, exclaimed:

"My, something has got into you tonight, Rita. Anything to do with that new sweetie of yours—the fellow with the sax? You aren't thinking of carrying him to the altar?"

WHY WE DO IT

Why We Have Instincts

By MEHRAN K. THOMSON, Ph. D.

Author of "The Springs of Human Action"

WE have instincts because we are animals. We belong to the animal kingdom. In so far as we live on the animal level we live by our instincts. In so far as we live a life of reason, which is decidedly a human prerogative, we get away from instincts.

This will explain a very important difference as well as a very close likeness between human beings and the lower forms of life. The animals and insects live wholly by instincts. Therefore their life is a matter of rigid mechanism. The bird builds his nest without previous training and builds it as his ancestors have built before him. She does it instinctively. She also knows the seasons of the year by instinct, when to go south and when to return north and many other intricate activities carried on in this blind way.

The acts of the bees and other insects and animals sometimes appear intelligent but there is no reasoning power back of them. So far as we can determine, animals do not really think. They do all these wonderful things by instinct. Instinct in the animal is purely a matter of reflex activity. One sort of activity leads to another, and that to another until the act is completed. It is a chain of reflexes.

No one knows how instincts originated. It is supposed that they were picked up somehow, along the line of progress, that the individuals who were best able to meet competition lived to reproduce their kind and thus the more capable ones continued to live on. Instincts are inherited. They are persistent tendencies to activity.

As human beings we have instincts to start us on our career but we soon learn many new ways of satisfying the instinctive cravings. Nevertheless these instincts, though greatly modified in expression, remain throughout life to urge us to undertake certain types of activity. They furnish the chief motive force. Intelligence and experience merely find new and varied ways of realizing these ends. This the animal cannot do.

To offset the severity of the evening mode, one comes upon chiffons

made with bertha and bolero lines, with draperies, flying panels and scarf treatments. While satins and metal clothes are effective and ultra chic, there is no denying chiffon has its place among the elite. Flowered chiffons continue to be worn, and flowered taffetas are presented by way of contrast. Coarse nets flowered and otherwise are presented in interesting silhouettes, untrimmed save for shirred or straight bands, or else quite prodigal in the matter of bouffants and frills.

The back remains freely cut away, but greatly softened by a drapery or better still a bertha of self fabric, this arrangement being particularly well liked in chiffons either flowered or plain. Naturally the tiered skirt, uneven and otherwise remains a general favorite since this arrangement is exceptionally flattering when the skirt is to the floor.

The "Sunday night frock", elabo-

THREE DIE WHEN PLANE CRASHES IN OREGON.

Eugene, Ore., Oct. 29 (AP)—An airplane crash which took the lives of two veteran fliers and a student aviatrix at Walker, Ore., was under investigation today as authorities attempted to learn its cause.

The plane fell and burst into flames after striking a tree. When the heat had subsided, the bodies of F. O. Mercer, "Doc" Clark and Miss Edith Ross, were taken from the wreckage so badly burned that they were identified only through personal papers.

Both Clark and Mercer saw service in the army during the World War, Mercer as an aerial photographer and Clark as pilot.

Miss Ross, 21, was acting as co-pilot of the plane. She had been taking flying lessons for about six months and made her first solo flight only a week ago. Prior to taking up flying she was a dancing instructor.
All the victims were residents of Portland, Ore.

Conflicting reports were heard here today as to the cause of the crash. The farmer on whose property the huge cabin monoplane fell said he heard the motor fail. Others said the plane, flying unusually low, side-slipped as it was banking above
a ridge, and struck a tall fir tree while the motor still was running.

Oxygen in Atmosphere Various figures have been given for the amount of oxygen by weight in the atmosphere. The figures generally given in text books on physics is 21 per cent; the average results of several determinations in Hempel's "Gas Analysis," 21.15; Sir William Ramsay
in the Bulletin of the United States Geological Survey, No. 200, gives 21.
08; A. Leduc gives the figure as 21.2.

To the children's eyes comes the sparkle of joy

COULD children's laughter be a little merrier . . . or their eyes sparkle more joyously . . .
or their shouts of
approval be more
whole-hearted . . .
it comes when you
give them "Canada

Absolutely pure
ingredients make
"Canada Dry" safe
for children. Jamaica ginger of the highest quality gives it a wonderfully subtle,

appetizing taste. Expert skill in making and scrupulous conditions of purity and testing
recommend "Canada

James O'Reilly Has Made Good

Alderman O'Reilly of Ninth Ward
Has Been One of Outstanding
Members of Common Council—Brief Sketch of His Life.

One of the outstanding members of Kingston's common council for the past four years has been Alderman James T. O'Reilly of the Ninth ward, who is the Republican candidate to succeed himself as alderman of that ward this fall. For the past two years Alderman O'Reilly has served as chairman of the important building committee of the common council, and he has always been active in looking after the interests not only of his own ward but the entire city.

The O'Reilly family have been residents of the Ninth ward for nearly a century, and Alderman O'Reilly was born and raised in the Ninth ward, and is thoroughly familiar with every detail of the ward. He had long been active in politics but had never sought public office until four years ago he was drafted by the Republican party to be its candidate for alderman of the Ninth ward. Alderman O'Reilly was elected and made such an excellent record in the common council that two years ago he was re-elected to the office for which he is now a candidate.

Alderman O'Reilly has always taken an active interest in the affairs not only of his own ward but in all civic activities in the city. In the common council he has proven a man of sound judgment and keen mind. His experience in city affairs has stood him in good stead in representing the Ninth Ward in the common council and he has been active in every matter of interest and importance that has been brought up in the council in the past four years.

Alderman O'Reilly has always worked in harmony with Mayor Dempsey in advocating the policies that have been successfully inaugurated during the Dempsey administration. He has been one of the most able representatives that the Ninth ward ever had in the common council.

Alderman O'Reilly is a licensed real estate broker by profession and his work brings him in contact with the residents not only of the Ninth ward but the city at large.

The voters of the Ninth ward will make no mistake this fall in returning him to office by an even larger majority than that given him two years ago.

Baked-Frozen!

ROY Chapman Andrews, made remarkable discoveries of bones of prehistoric animals, millions of years old, in the wilds of Central China.

J. McKenzie Young, his Chief of Motor Transport, writes of Exide Batteries:

"In temperatures varying from 40 degrees below zero to 120 degrees above they have always responded. In terrific blizzards, mud, snow and rain, they have never failed to act."

You can select an Exide for your car with the same confidence that Roy Chapman Andrews and other daring explorers have shown in choosing it for their hazardous trips into the unknown.

Regular inspection of your battery, regardless of its make, at our service station, will pay you in longer battery life. Come in—our time is your time—any time.

Frank J. Leirey Is a Candidate

Frank J. Leirey, the Republican candidate for alderman of the Fourth ward, was born in Kingston in 1885, and he received his education in the public schools of the city, and also took up a business course. He is an expert stenographer, and at one time was in the employ of the Federal government in the Personnel Division of the Quartermaster General's office at Washington. He also worked in the military intelligence department and the adjutant general's department in supervisory capacity.

A. D. K. Thursday, October 31—Advertisement.

Herbert C. Myers Should Elect For Alderman Harry Hutton

Herbert C. Myers, the Republican candidate for alderman of the Third ward is one of the successful business men of that ward. Mr. Myers was born in Kingston and resided here all his life. He received his education in the public schools of the city. Mr. Myers when he decided to embark in the business world turned his attention to electrical work, and after years of application to his trade, he successfully established himself in business as an electrical contractor with place of business on Meade street.

Mr. Myers has always taken an active interest in the civic welfare of the city, and will ably represent the Third ward in the common council. He is married and has two sons. Fraternally he is an active member of Charles D. White Council, No. 91, J. O. U. A. M.

HARRY S. HUTTON.

The Eighth ward has been without Republican representation in the common council for some years, and for that reason Harry S. Hutton, a lifelong resident of that ward, was the unanimous choice of the Republican party as its candidate for alderman this fall. In selecting Mr. Hutton, the Republican party selected a young business man who has shown that he is amply fitted to represent the Eighth ward adequately in the city legislature.

Mr. Hutton was born at the family home on Spring street and has been a resident of the Eighth ward all his life. He received his early education in School No. 2, and later attended Kingston High School where he spent two years, leaving, finally to take up a business course at Spencer's Business College.

After completing his business course entered the employ of the Thompson packing house, and later was employed by Armour & Company, the wholesale meat packers and distributors. At the present time Mr. Hutton is cashier of The Freeman Publishing Company.

Mr. Hutton is a son of the late Samuel J. Hutton, who died in 1927. The elder Mr. Hutton for many years was a valued employee of the Cornell Steamboat Company at the Cornell Shops on the Strand.

With the election of Mayor Dempsey assured the voters of the Eighth ward will make no mistake in selecting Harry S. Hutton to represent the ward in the common council for the ensuing two years. He is thoroughly in harmony with the policies of the Republican administration and is well qualified to adequately represent the ward.

The business administration that has been given the city the past two years will be continued under the administration of Mayor Dempsey and Mr. Hutton's business ability will prove of benefit not only to his own ward but the entire city. It is men of the type of Mr. Hutton who are needed in the common council, and it is expected that the voters of the Eighth ward, irrespective of party affiliation, will see to it in November that he is elected alderman of the Eighth ward.

Idea of Correspondence

a Little Too Laconic

Reeves had engaged a substitute stenographer to take the place of his secretary while she was absent on vacation. The new typist was eager and did very well, even though she made mistakes.

By the end of the first week Reeves, being handicapped, asked the girl if she thought she could write business letters. She assured him that she had specialized in correspondence in business college. Reeves thereupon handed her a sheet of letters on which he had written short memoranda, such as "No" and "Yes," to indicate the nature of his reply.

When the girl laid the completed letters on his desk Reeves took a look at them and almost hit the ceiling. For the stenographer had written them thus:

"Gentlemen—

"No."

Others bore "Yes" in line with the notation.

Reeves believed there is too much red tape in business and admits that letters should be shorter than the average, but he considered those waiting for his signature a little too laconic.—New York Sun.

Immobility in Animals

Produced by Irritation

There are several ways of hypnotizing animals. With many species of beetles shock will cause them to become rigid.

With the vertebrates, amphibians, fish, birds, and mammals, hypnosis is attained by external irritation. The most effective irritation is caused by placing an animal in a position from which it cannot regain its normal posture without delay, and where it is deprived of escape. A hen cannot move when placed quickly on its back, having its legs held fast for a while. Many fish remain motionless when placed quickly on their backs in a water-filled vessel.

A rat or mouse, if seized sharply by the tail or foot, can be reduced to this state. The mate of a certain species of spider pinches the female, thus causing immobility. By a quick blow on the head a rooster can cause a hen to become immobile.

OLDSMOBILE PROVIDES PRESSURE LUBRICATED PISTON PINS

A feature characteristic of high-priced cars

Incorporated in the construction of Oldsmobile's big 62-horsepower engine are many features which have long been considered marks of high quality in automobile power plants.

Piston pins, for example, are pressure lubricated through connecting rods which are drilled throughout their entire length. Serving as connections between rods and pistons, the pins act constantly as bearing surfaces under great strain. The stress imposed by compression and combustion is enormous, and, to assure smoothness and long life, piston pins must be perfectly lubricated. And the only positive method of lubrication is by direct pressure from the oil pump through crankshaft and connecting rods. According to specifications shown in the July issue of "Motor," only twelve makes of cars, in addition to Oldsmobile and Viking, offer this feature—and the majority of these, are priced above $2000. In Oldsmobile, all main connecting rod and camshaft bearings are also lubricated under pressure.

Many other quality features include controlled cooling; engine driven fuel pump; counterbalanced crankshaft; and complete engine protection afforded by oil filter, air cleaner, gasoline strainer, and crankcase ventilation.

These and many other advantages characterize Oldsmobile as a thoroughly fine motor car. Come in today and examine the car. Drive it yourself. Discover to your own satisfaction how much Oldsmobile's fine-car construction contributes to the excellence of Oldsmobile's performance.

Run-Down, Weak, Nervous?

To have plenty of firm flesh and the ability to do a big day's work and feel "like a two-year old" at night, you must eat three good meals a day, relax your food and properly digest it. If you can't eat, can't sleep, can't work, just give Tanlac the chance to do for you what it has done for millions.

Mrs. Harriet Grimes of 31 Shields Ave., Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "My appetite and digestion were all upset. I was tormented with headaches and dizzy spells. My daughter advised me to take Tanlac. Now I feel so fine that I can sweep, clean or cook all day." Tanlac is wonderful for indigestion and constipation—gas, pains, nausea, dizziness and headaches. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest your food, and gain strength and weight. It contains no mineral drugs; it is made of roots, herbs and nature's own medicines for the sick. The cost is less than 2 cents a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist. Your money back if it doesn't help.

The modern method of relieving constipation. Doctors will tell you why you should chew your laxatives. Pleasant to take. Gentle but thorough in its action. Insist on the Genuine.

WALKER DEFENDS TITLE AGAINST HUDKINS TONIGHT.

Los Angeles, Oct. 29 (P).—On a canvas-covered battle ground at Wrigley Field, Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, tonight will defend the crown which is his by right of might against the savage rasher of his most persistent challenger—Ace Hudkins.

Reared in the ring, school that teaches "no quarter asked and none given," these two gladiators are expected to settle a fisty dispute, in ten rounds or less, that will go down as one of the memorable bouts of the game.

One year ago they came together in an encounter which since has provoked much comment, both for and against the decision. The Runson, N. J., bulldog retained his title after ten furious sessions but Hudkins always claimed he was the victim of a poor decision.

A month's training grind has put both champion and challenger in the peak of physical condition. There will be no AIHI from either side.

Those who back their opinions with money have made Walker a 10-5 favorite, although in some quarters they stuck up over.

It will be Walker's third defense of the title since he won it from Tiger Flowers in 1926. In 1927 he knocked out Tommy Higgins in London and last year edged out the decision over Hudkins.

MILTON. Oct. 29.—The Milton Methodist Church will host a Harvest Home meeting on Sunday morning, November 3, at 11 o'clock. All contributions of fruit and vegetables, etc., will be sent to the Five Points Mission in New York city.

Once 1,444 voters registered in the town of Marlborough on the two registration days. The largest number registered in the first district, 470. District No. 3 comes second with 316. The second district registered 482 and 102 registered in the fourth district.

On account of the heavy east wind and an unusual high tide last Tuesday night the night boat was unable to make a landing at Milton dock.

The waves were the roughest seen in a long time. Many barrels and barrels awaiting shipment to New York were left over until Wednesday night.

A series of petty thefts are being investigated by the State Troopers in this section. A pay telephone was found recently along the state road by the apple orchard of James Dowd. Where it came from or what object the thieves had in taking it is a mystery. Several farmers have had potatoes stolen from their barns.

A committee has been chosen by the Sarah Hull Hallcock Library board for the card party which will be held the second Friday in November. Many tickets have already been sold and the committee is planning for a large affair for the benefit of the library fund.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Needle Craft and Women's Missionary Societies of the First Presbyterian Church will be held at the home of Miss Florence Woolsey on Sands avenue, Wednesday afternoon, November 6, at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Ella Woolsey and family have moved into the Frank Dorton bungalow on Sands avenue.

The people of Milton will now have another chance to enjoy moving pictures. William Scott of Highland has had the heavy writing completed which is required for the two machines owned by him. It is his plan to show the pictures Wednesday and Saturday evenings. Mr. Scott has completed arrangements with two film corporations, Metro Goldwyn and Pathé.

The regular monthly meeting of the Males and Matrons Society will be held at their rooms in the Community House, Tuesday evening.

The falling of an electric light pole at the Hosed sand and gravel plant below Marlborough about 6 o'clock last Tuesday evening caused all the lights in this village to go out for an hour. The trouble was soon relieved and the lights came on again.

Winter Coming

Read how 950,000 motorists made their cars permanently freeze-proof last year

Let G. P. A. Radiator Glycerine give you the same all-winter protection it gave 950,000 users last year. Start the season right. Now is the time to use it.

One filling lasts from October to May

G. P. A. Radiator Glycerine was used by 950,000 motorists last year.

Instead of putting in an old-fashioned anti-freeze that would evaporate and require constant worry over replacement, they put in one filling of G. P. A. Radiator Glycerine and went through the whole winter with it.

One filling of G. P. A. Radiator Glycerine protects your car against freezing for the entire winter. No replacements—because glycerine won't evaporate. No uncertainty. Park your car anywhere in any weather with perfect safety. You're sure of your protection. G. P. A. Radiator Glycerine is a standard product vouched for by the Glycerine Producers' Association of America. Safe for the car and harmless to the car finish. No odor. Just follow the instructions on the can and get the same satisfaction 950,000 motorists got last year.

It lasts all winter. Put it in your car NOW!

The cold snaps are coming. The sooner you put G. P. A. Radiator Glycerine in your car, the sooner you're protected. It lasts all winter—so why not get the benefit of its protection at once. Your garage should have it.

Don't get caught! Use an anti-freeze that won't evaporate

In most cases where cars are frozen their owners thought they were protected. It's so easy to be fooled by an anti-freeze that evaporates. Glycerine won't evaporate. Hence one filling of G. P. A. Radiator Glycerine lasts all winter. You're always sure of its protection.

Patrick J. White Well Qualified

Former Policeman Patrick J. White, the Republican candidate for alderman of the Sixth ward, was born and has lived all his life in that ward. Mr. White commenced his political career in 1894 when he was elected as one of the city's constables in which capacity he served for two years, when he was made a member of the police department upon its organization in 1896.

Mr. White served as a member of the police department for 25 years, retiring from active service in 1921 with an excellent record as an efficient police officer.

Ceylon Ship's Name

Contains 24 Letters

London. — There's something funny about the names picked for ships. Sailors have a passion for naming their craft after the stars—Venus, Jupiter, Sirius and others. Twenty-eight merchant ships of over 100 tons bear the name of Jupiter. Probably the longest name conferred on a ship is "Venayagaworpa-kialachem," borne by a bark registered in Ceylon.

Shufeldt Makes Good as Judge

City Judge Augustus Shufeldt has proven his fitness in his work of the past four years on the Bench—Brief Sketch of His Life.

The man who has probably heard the most hard luck stories the past four years in Kingston is City Judge Augustus Shufeldt, the Republican candidate to succeed himself on the city court bench this fall. During the past four years Judge Shufeldt has been called upon to decide over 4,500 cases, but that is only one side of his work, for there are numberless cases brought to his attention that are settled after a conference without court action.

A glance over the records in his office at the city hall shows that his chief interest has been the settling of family disputes by getting both sides together in his private office and talking it over. After thoroughly thrashing out both sides of the dispute many families, that would have been separated, are living together in harmony. These cases are never made public, and only the interested parties know what goes on behind the closed door of the judge's private office.

By having both husband and wife appear before him privately, Judge Shufeldt has found that much better results were obtained than if the husband or wife were issued a warrant and the family dispute threshed out in public court. Many of these matters are also taken up and settled outside of the judge's regular court hours.

Judge Shufeldt received his education in the public schools and after his graduation from Kingston Academy he entered Union University Law School. He was admitted to the practice of law in 1906, and opened a law office in this city. For many years he was associated with the late County Judge James Jenkins. During the years that have passed Judge Shufeldt became thoroughly grounded in the law, and through his experience in general practice litigants in city court are assured of decisions based on mature judgment. Judge Shufeldt does not believe in snap judgments and every case that has been tried before him has been given mature consideration before he has handed down a decision.

Judge Shufeldt in 1918 was appointed special city judge, and in 1925 was elected to the office of judge of the city court, which office he now holds. Judge Shufeldt during the past four years has decided more cases than all of the other courts combined. He has jurisdiction over both civil and criminal cases.

An Open Letter to the

JUNIOR LEAGUE

The Junior League and the American Legion have three things, at least, in common:

1. Both are pledged to a program of service and fellowship.
2. Some of your husbands and brothers are comrades of ours.
3. We both give annual revenue-raising balls for good causes.

We commend and applaud the service you so splendidly perform. And we applaud in a concrete way. At all of the fine Junior League balls you will find a generous sprinkling of Legionnaires—having a jolly good time, and, incidentally, getting an eyeful of the latest in original decorations.

No smart social event like THE VICTORY BALL is completely successful unless every available woman of charm and distinction is in attendance. In other words, we want YOU at the VICTORY BALL.

If you don't attend, you will deprive yourself of a great opportunity and us of a greater honor.

Will you come?

Now Millions More Stop "Dosing" Colds

Better External Treatment Wins New Users All Over the World.

Every year since the introduction of Vicks VapoRub, more and more people have given up the old-fashioned way of "dosing" colds and have turned to the modern method of treating them externally. Today the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

Best for Children's Colds. From the very first Vicks has been appreciated, especially by mothers of young children, because it checks colds without risk of upsetting delicate stomachs as "dosing" is so apt to do.

Just rubbed on, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster.

"Drawing out" tightness and soreness; at the same time, it gives off medicated vapors which are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages. Demand increases each year. As more and more people appreciate this better method of treating colds, the demand for Vicks increases year after year. Only a short time ago the famous slogan, "Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly," was raised to "21 Million" to keep up with this demand. These figures, too, have been outgrown, as there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly"—a jar for every family in the United States.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Washington—Modern inventions are destroying American life, an exception is made by Vice President Curtis. "This is not true of radio," he said in a radio address. "It holds a unique place in that it is returning us to our presides."

Pittsburgh—Public school classroom work is to be radioed via KDKA every Tuesday afternoon next month in an experiment to determine whether radio can become a useful adjunct to teaching.

Boston—Display of American flags in public schools is regarded by the Right Rev. Paul Jones, acting Episcopal Bishop of Southern Ohio, as "a dangerous fetish worship which promotes thoughts of war among school children." He expressed the opinion in an address criticizing military training in schools and colleges.

New York—The Leviathan now distributes printed wine lists on west-bound trips. Cocktails are 25 cents and highballs 35. On the last trip there was an overstock with the result that jettisoning was necessary when the ship approached New York.

Pittsburgh—Miss Mary W. Green, dean of women at Carnegie Tech, deplores the existence of a smoking room established by referendum of coeds, but bows to recognition of conditions as they exist.

London—A male columnist for the Morning Post writes his delight of women's new "publicity bonnets," as he calls them, meaning the severe off-the-face hats that have come into vogue, replacing those pulled down well over the eyes. Far too many pretty faces, he writes, have been concealed by drooping hats.

New York—Recovered from the fishes, a gold cigarette case inscribed with names of famous aviators is to be restored to Thea Rasche. It was in the purse she dropped overboard when waving farewell to friends wishing her bon voyage. A diver found it.

Berlin—The first all-German sound picture depicts the sinking of the British steamship Titanic by collision with an iceberg.

New York—Miss Grace Lyon, a young woman of wealth, who has backed swimmers and girl fliers and can fly herself, is having a plane built in which she hopes to fly to Paris next summer with several friends.

Pelting—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson has ridden a donkey for several hours along the top of the Great Wall. In a three-hour train ride to the scene she rode in a baggage car, the conductor serving tea, rice cakes and persimmons.

New York—A poor girl who works in the tobacco fields of North Carolina has realized her dream of becoming a capitalist. She sent her savings of $4 to the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey asking that it be invested in the company's stock.

The company returned the money. Other stockholders heard about it and contributed enough to buy her a share. The company found she got the idea from a brother who works in a garage that had just bought a carload of gasoline. The names of the girl and the contributors are not given in the company's magazine.

PHOENICIA

Phoenixia, Oct. 25.—The many friends of Kenneth Easlet are sorry to learn he is ill of a cold. Several are suffering from a bad form of cold.

Mrs. A. P. Loomis and Harriet spent Saturday afternoon in Hobart. Miss Aileen Schwarzwald spent the week-end at her home here.

Mrs. Donovan and Miss Minnie Simpson attended the Teachers' Conference at Albany.

C. Simpson enjoyed a pheasant hunt at New Paltz.

Mrs. J. Schoonmaker has been visiting her mother for a few days, but Joe knows how to keep house without baking pie or cake.

Politics are very quiet. Everybody expects to be the one to go in so what's the use of making a hubbub ahead of time?

H. Short and wife of Schenectady visited Mr. Short's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Short.

Mrs. Hoyt of Kingston is visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. Clancy. Dick Gross of New York was a caller here this week.

Therma Nollner spent Saturday in Kingston. The Phoenixia Hotel will remain open during deer season.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Sheppard are spending a few days with friends in New Jersey.

The rain and wind barred many of the trees while others lost their rich coloring and are now brown and the duller shades. There was a good turnout of the men at the meeting held to start a band. An instructor from Kingston was in charge. There is musical talent in Phoenixia and no reason that Phoenixia should go without a fine band, such as was once had here.

LAKE HILL

Lake Hill, Oct. 25.—Ruth Bonesteel spent the week-end with her grandmother, Mrs. Harry L. Wilber. All are sorry to hear that Harry Shultz and family are moving to Roxbury this week.

Jack Wilber and Dalley Walker attended the movies at Kingston Friday.

Mrs. F. Franckling and son, John Amos, motored to New York Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Ostrander called on Mrs. Paul Bonesteel Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hyatt called on Mrs. Wilson Bonesteel Sunday.

Miss Freda Wilber attended teacher's conference at Albany Thursday and Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carl, called on Mrs. Foster Carl one day last week.

Abraham Wilber and son, Samuel, spent Sunday with George L. Wilber.

Mrs. Claude Sakendorf called on Mrs. E. D. Hooke Friday.

Miss Anita Smith spent Sunday with Mrs. A. W. Cooper.

RED CROSS GIRL FOR 1929

Attractive girl artist poses for Red Cross Roll Call Poster for 1929, which is the work of Hayden Hayden.

WHEN Hayden Hayden, distinguished artist, prepared to submit a poster in the competition for use in the 1929 Red Cross Roll Call for members, he was confronted with the problem of finding a model for the typical American girl he wished to depict. He was fortunate in collecting the cooperation of a young fellow artist, Miss Estelle Stokes, who had for some time been his assistant, but had graduated and after studying at the Art Students' League and with Frank Carter, is now making a name for herself in the painting field.

Miss Stokes, an athletic and outdoor girl, has transmitted her personality into some of the pictures of which she is the artist, and which adorn the highways.

The vivacity captured picture of which Mr. Hayden is the artist, and which is pictured here, ranks with the best that have been accepted by the Red Cross in its annual Roll Call invitation.

ELLENVILLE

Ellenville, Oct. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. William Pierson of Rahway, N. J., visited Mrs. Pierson's mother, Mrs. Charles F. Taylor, Wednesday, en route to Clinton, N. Y., where they will visit Mrs. Pierson's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Max E. Weber.

Miss Marguerite Kelder has a position at Weiser's stationery store on Canal street.

Miss Emma Warren has returned to Philadelphia after a two weeks' stay with Mr. and Mrs. William L. Douglas of Maple avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. William Eck have left for Torrington, Conn., where Mr. Eck has accepted a position in a machine shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard I. Jollie have returned home after visiting the Mrs. Jollie's sister, Mrs. Charles A. Bayer at East Orange, N. J., and the Mr. Jollie's sister, Mrs. Elery Countryman in Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Arthur Griffin, formerly Mrs. Sarah Depuy, of this village, and her son are planning on making their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen D. Potter motored to East Orange, N. J., Tuesday last week to visit Dr. and Mrs. Raymond T. Potter. On Wednesday Mr. Potter and his brother, Dr. Potter, played in the membership and guest golf tournament at that place.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held Wednesday afternoon, October 30, at 2 o'clock at Mount Memorial Hall.

Mrs. Humbert Pless and infant son have returned to her home in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Beiglow of Mahoning visited Mrs. Beiglow's father, Charles Eck, Sr., on Chapel street, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Zapp motored to Albany on Thursday.

Mrs. R. C. Collins and Miss Louise Collins of Woodland, N. J., visited Mr. and Mrs. George B. Holmes a few days the past week.

F. C. Cornsman of Walden, formerly of this village, is spending some time in town.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Boyce and Mr. and Mrs. Dorby Elting have returned from a motor trip to Indiana, stopping at many points of interest enroute.

Mrs. Belle M. Conway and son motored up from Tarrytown to visit her mother, Mrs. Anna Paul, returning the same day.

The Rev. and Mrs. T. H. E. Richards of Philmont, N. Y., spent several days in town last week with friends, returning on Thursday.

Mrs. Frank Mowbray of Brooklyn, formerly Miss Pernie White of this village, is seriously ill at the Long Island College Hospital.

First Monday Club Lecture

The first of the Monday Club lectures for this season was given on Monday, afternoon in the chapel of the First Dutch Church by Professor Edward Newton Voorhees of St. John's College, Annapolis. Professor Voorhees needed no introduction to the audience as he was one of the popular speakers in the course of the year. The general subject for the lecture course this year is "Some Aspects of Modern Literature," and the topic for the first lecture was "The Modern Spirit in the Western World." Mr. Voorhees said that the lecture was largely expository, questions touched upon in this lecture would be taken up more fully in later addresses. As writings in the ages have been influenced by the life of the period in which they were written, so modern literature shows the trend of our times with its questionings, its materialism, its loss and its worship of wealth. The speaker read several selections from modern as well as not so modern writings depicting the different style and manner of thought. The lecture was well planned to give interest in the addresses to follow and to lay a foundation for the enjoyment and understanding. The subject next Monday afternoon will be "The Modern Spirit in Some English Writers of Today," with Professor Voorhees again being speaker.

"Let's get up a Newspaper ad"

This is the first of a series of ads depicting the various processes of advertising production—watch for No. 2 in an early issue.

"first we must decide on a subject—"

Clip and save the ads in this series—when completed they will form a complete story of the preparation of newspaper advertising.

LET us therefore devote our advertising efforts to the preparation of a Fall Opening Announcement for an imaginary store—The "Roseanne Dress Shoppe" for example, whose slogan we will assume is—"A Touch of Youth in every Garment." The nature of our store and the subject of our advertising being established, the next step will be to prepare a preliminary layout suggestion.

Freeman advertisers, of course, need not rich their brains for ideas because our exclusive franchise for the Mayor South Company's General Newspaper Service provides scores of advertising ideas on every subject—Out of this splendid service entails no additional expenditure. Our representative will gladly call and explain the service in detail.

Bankers to Help Maintain Orderly Stock Markets

More No. 100 shares of American Telephone and Telegraph which last 24 points.

New York, Oct. 29 (AP)—Leading bankers today believed investment buying would salvage a demoralized stock market, wrecked in a country-wide cyclone of selling that swept $14,000,000,000 away in quoted values.

A stampede to unload sent stock prices crashing again yesterday in the second market collapse within four days. Total sales for the day of 9,212,800 shares were exceeded only by the record of last Thursday when 12,894,600 shares were sold.

Although the volume was less, the net losses were greater, many leading issues shrinking 10 to 50 points with closing prices at the bottom. The ticker was two hours and 47 minutes behind at the close.

The group of bankers who last week acted to stabilize the market, met at the close yesterday in the offices of J. P. Morgan and Company. They were Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the National City Bank; Albert H. Wiggin, chairman of the Chase National Bank; William C. Potter, president of the Guaranty Trust Company; Seward Prosser, chairman of the Bankers' Trust Company; and Thomas W. Lamont, partner in J. P. Morgan and Company.

They issued no formal statement. A spokesman for the group said that important investment interests were preparing to enter the market immediately as large buyers of high grade stocks.

The bankers also said they were adhering to the plan announced last Thursday to help maintain an orderly market. At that time it was stated unofficially that a $100,000,000 pool had been formed for that purpose. They said they had no intention of exerting any influence to prevent a decline, and that any such idea was a misconception.

With small investors and speculators driven out in last Thursday's debacle and previous declines, it was the big operators who were caught in the avalanche yesterday. Many of the wealthiest men in the country took paper losses running into hundreds of millions.

George F. Baker, chairman of the First National Bank, took a paper loss of $6,600,000 on his 22,000 shares of First National when the price dropped $300 a share. It was quoted at about $4,000. He also owns 64,000 shares of American Telephone and Telegraph which last 24 points.

Big Paper Losses

Others who took huge paper losses were Fletcher Brothers of Detroit, Arthur W. Cullen of Chicago, John J. Rankin, William C. Durant, Harrison Williams, Public Utilities magazine, and Sidney Mitchell, head of the Electric Bond and Share Company.

Wall street operators expressed the opinion that the slump in stock prices would not affect business generally, but predicted that the conditions of the market might be reflected in a slowing up of the purchase of luxuries.

There is speculation whether automobile stocks can maintain their present dividend rate, which is based on prices to yield between 5 and 10 per cent, while good industrial stocks are selling on a yield basis of less than 5 per cent.

Another phase of the situation which is being watched closely is the effect of the depression on investment trusts which have placed between two and three billion of dollars worth of securities in the market during the past year.

Heads of these organizations refuse to discuss the situation, but some of the managers of the larger ones said they were in liquid condition and that they had bought some stock in the decline, but for the most part were standing aside waiting for the market to hit the bottom before buying extensively.

Some of the favorite issues among the hard-core United States Steel common declined 17 1/2. General Electric 47 1/2. United States Industrial Alcohol 23 1/2.

Of the estimated paper loss of $14,000,000,000, the New York market accounted for $10,000,000,000 with the rest distributed among other exchanges over the country.

EUGENE B. CAREY IS LIAISON OFFICER.

When Joyce-Schrick Post, No. 1386 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was organized in this city it created two war veterans organizations here and, therefore, to have complete harmony amongst ex-service men and women it was Eugene B. Carey, a member of both organizations, who was chosen as Liaison Officer of the V. F. W.

One of the biggest victories this year was securing enactment by the State Legislature in Albany of Chapter No. 583 of the Laws of 1929. By this act all resident veterans who are now blind or who hereafter become blind receive an annual pension of $200.00 per year from the State of New York. Senator Wicks and Assemblyman Lewis got behind the bill when the local veterans organizations pressed it to them and Governor Roosevelt signed the bill on 10 months.

Schrick Post and Joyce-Schrick Post had two blind World War veterans in their membership at the time of the passage of this law. The Liaison Officer is in reality the hand of union for the local veterans.

Senator Burton Dies at Capital

Washington, Oct. 29 (AP)—The national capital today mourned the death of one of its most loved and respected legislators, Senator Theodore E. Burton of Ohio.

After a long life, devoted largely to public service and the advancement of world peace, Senator Burton died late last night at the age of 77.

A short while before his death, President Hoover had called to inquire as to his condition. Messages of condolence and sympathy and hope for his recovery had been received from Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon as well as from numerous members of the House and Senate.

Fulfilling the Senator's own wish, burial will be at Cleveland. Members of Congress, anxious to honor one who they not only respected as a statesman but valued as well as a friend, will gather tomorrow in the Senate chamber for public funeral services. The body will lie in state at the capitol throughout the day.

Senator Burton fully realized that he could not recover from the malady that gripped him several months ago and expressed several desires which will be carried out in arrangements for the funeral. Among these, he requested that the funeral sermon be preached by Bishop William F. McDonnell, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, an old friend, and that the Knights Templar conduct the service at his grave.

After serving first as a Republican member of the House and then in the Senate, Mr. Burton decided in 1914 not to stand for re-election, and withdrawing from public life, made an opportunity for Warren G. Harding to come into national prominence.

At the close of the World War, he emerged from his retirement and became a candidate for the House. He was elected and entered the senatorial campaign of a year ago and was given a majority of more than half a million. He is the only man in American history to serve in House and Senate, return to the House and then again hold membership in the Senate.

This latter phase of his public career was devoted to the cause of international peace. Entering the House as American troops were returning from France, the aged Ohioan threw himself heart and soul into the effort to make the ideal of perpetual peace a reality.

He advanced the abolition of poison gas as an implement of warfare, joined in a movement to outlaw the aggressor nation in any international conflict, opposed in 1926 the appropriation of funds to begin the construction of three cruisers previously authorized, and sponsored the move which led to the Kellogg treaty renouncing war as an instrument of national policy.

A vigorous proponent of the limitation of naval armaments, the Ohio Senator died in the satisfaction of the knowledge that the nations are at an effort to attain this objective.

Vets' Costume Ball at Armory

Joyce-Schrick Post Has Completed Program for Ball at Armory Thursday—Entertainment, Grand March and Dancing.

The stage is set for the annual Costume Benefit Ball of Joyce-Schrick Post, No. 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the armory on Thursday, October 31, Halloween night. Proceeds of the ball go to defray expenses of the post: home and to aid disabled veterans.

A good time is promised by veterans in charge of the ball. They have arranged a program and are confident that it will please all who patronize the benefit event. Last year's Costume Ball was a success. The veterans hope to surpass it this fall. They have done their share in arranging the program, so that the attendance part remains with the public. The veterans feel sure that this end of the event will be well taken care of Halloween night.

The evening's proceedings will start with a band concert by Harry Malsenheimer's Commanders at 8 o'clock. At 8:30 the entertainment program will go on. It consists of acts by the Radio Trio, a group of broadcasters who have a wealth of songs, funny stories and novelties to offer; Huling's trained seals in a performance that has pleased large audiences in many of the large theatres throughout the west and a selection of dance numbers by Miss Frances Finn of this city.

Assembly dancing will start promptly at 9:30. Malsenheimer's Commanders promise a class of music that will please every dancer. At 11 o'clock everything will halt for the observance of one minute of silence in respect to the memory of those warriors who fell in defense of their country or died after honorable discharge from the service of this nation.

Immediately following the minute of silence the grand march will be held. This promises to be one of the outstanding features of the ball. All those in costume, and of course everyone who attends the ball will be dressed for the occasion, will join in the grand march to compete for the gold prizes offered by Joyce-Schrick Post. They will be offered for the prettiest, most original and the funniest costume.

Following the awarding of prizes dancing will be held until the early hours. The refreshment stands will be handled by the Ladies' Auxiliary of Joyce-Schrick Post, and it is expected that they will be well patronized. Cider, crullers, cake, ice cream and coffee will be on sale.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 23 (AP).—The mad scramble to get out of stocks reached record-breaking proportions today as prices plunged downward under what appeared to be world-wide liquidation of securities. Extreme declines in most of the active stocks ranged from 10 to 20 points, with more than half the general list in new low ground for the year. Total sales crossed the $500,000,000 share mark before noon, with indications that the day's total would run far ahead of last week's 12,000,000 share season.

The decline, like those which have preceded it, was not associated with anything in the day's news, but represented the closing out of speculative accounts weakened in the succession of crashes that have taken place during the past week. Bankers endeavored to relieve the situation by reducing margin requirements on street loans from 40 to 25 per cent, and providing occasional support to assure an orderly market, but this was not sufficient to stem the gigantic wave of selling. The call money renewal rate was reduced from 6 to 5 per cent, and time money was freely offered at the lowest rates of the year.

Opening blocks on the New York Stock Exchange ranged from 10,000 to 150,000 shares. When this initial deluge of selling had been disposed of, the market rallied, but fresh offerings appeared and prices began to slide steadily downward until the early afternoon. Bankers held out hopes that today's selling would mark the climax of the decline in most stocks, as quoted values, in many cases, were at levels to attract investment support.

Failure of a member of the New York Curb Exchange, increased the widespread uneasiness prevailing in the financial district, but New York Stock Exchange houses appeared to be weathering the storm in good shape. Hopes were held out that the quarterly meeting of the United States Steel Corporation, to be held after the close of the market, would provide some development to restore speculative confidence.

Quotations given by Parker McElroy & Co., members N. Y. Stock Exchange, 120 Broadway, New York City, branch office, Stuyvesant Hotel.

And the Best Building
If the automobile in the world were placed end to end, the fellow in the front end would probably be waiting to drive out a left turn, as usual—Terry House Tribune.

POULTRY

WINTER QUARTERS NEED RIGHT CARE

Great Drawback Is Keeping Fowls Free of Vermin.

More interest among poultry raisers and "small flock" owners centers around the fall and winter season than at any other time of the year. Many flocks of chickens are ruined by lack of knowledge in caring for their winter quarters, picking out the right fowls and keeping them in shape for the long winter season to follow.

One of the greatest drawbacks of the small raiser is keeping their birds free from vermin, lice and different parasites which infest the chicken quarters. The owner is besieged with different kinds of literature on this subject, some too expensive to try and others not practical for their use. In order to raise chickens profitably one must have "building" material that will not use up all the income received. In the feeding line your feed man can, in most cases, sell you feed of the right kind at the right price. In the disinfectant line everybody has a different method and generally too expensive for the average small raiser. In this line perhaps the best is none too high, but several have been tried and proved successful.

Take a full handful of tobacco stems and soak in lukewarm water for one hour, drain and use the water—adding one-half pint of kerosene and one gallon of water. Spray just before chickens go to roost. If tobacco stems are not obtainable, use smoking tobacco, a small package the same way. If too bothersome to soak tobacco get nicotine at the drug store, or nursery and use two teaspoonfuls to the same proportions as tobacco.

To be sure you are getting results, place a sheet of paper on the dropping board after spraying and if the chickens have vermin you will see them drop off onto the paper.

Hens Are Tempted by Eggs Broken in Nest

One of the most common vices is egg eating, of which most poultry keepers have had some experience. Although the habit may be formed at any period of the year there is no doubt that a large number of the outbreaks are recorded during the summer.

This is partly due to the fact that large numbers of eggs are produced, and many of them are deposited in nests devoid of litter, thus creating a tendency for the eggs to become damaged.

The habit is often the result of a broken egg being left in the nest or on the manure board, to be devoured by some bird later.

Very few, if any, hens can resist the temptation, and the habit quickly spreads from one to another, developing into an epidemic which frequently proves costly for the owners. Unless the nests are kept well covered with soft material the shells are certain to get damaged. Later on other hens frequent the nests, and broken eggs follow.

Poultry Hints

Cleanliness is the best preventive of poultry diseases.

Old hens are the most common spreaders of poultry tuberculosis.

Canker is a sore throat similar to diphtheria. Remove a sick hen at once.

Generally speaking, the hens with white shanks, big red combs, and old, dirty, and ragged plumage are the ones to keep, according to the specialist.

If eggs are found in stolen nests, in the litter or otherwise, so that their condition is not absolutely known, candle such eggs before taking them to market.

A hen that is laying will have a big, red, waxy comb, but as soon as she quits, the comb will begin to shrivel.

New corn can be fed in the ear if the birds are started on it gradually, with the amount increased from day to day.

Mouth curtains, if used in ventilating poultry houses, should be clean and in good condition. The old ones in an area which is clogged with dust is not an effective medium for the diffusion of the air.

In addition to wash and scratch grain bins should have free access to grit, oyster shells and water. Green feed such as cabbage or mangels is also helpful.

For winter feeding yellow corn is superior to white. The yellow type are rich in vitamins A, which is necessary to keep the birds in good health and particularly to prevent eye trouble. This vitamin is also found in green feed, but little of it is in white corn, wheat, oats, buckwheat, barley and other common feeds.

The Own Method
While some arranged the poultry houses, her little store handled the eggs and called each order by name. Frequently she said: "Auntie, I can read." "You poor, dear!" answered Auntie. "You can't read the copy." "But I can read the you do," I read by mail.—Delineator.

Moses Enters Plea of Guilty

Alexander Moses, 18, who was indicted on a charge of robbery in the first degree, at the opening of Supreme Court this afternoon, decided to change his former plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty to robbery in the second degree.

While the changing of the plea was being brought to the attention of the court the jury which was hearing the evidence in the case was excluded from the room, and the young man's attorney explained that young Moses had been led into wrongdoing by older men. The man who was shot to death was the man who had led Moses into wrongdoing.

Moses will be sentenced at the conclusion of the trial of the two other defendants, and will be held in the county jail until sentenced. Moses had already served one year and three months at Dannemora, having pleaded guilty without waiting for a grand jury to pass upon the case. At this procedure had been ruled unconstitutional, Moses had been brought back and his case passed upon by a grand jury, which had filed an indictment against him.

STONE RIDGE HOME BUREAU MEETING

Stone Ridge, Oct. 23.—The regular meeting of the Stone Ridge Home Bureau was held at the library on Friday afternoon, October 23. GRUNDY MAKES

COMMITTEE GASP

Washington, Oct. 29 (AP)—Joseph H. Grundy, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association and dean of lobbyists took the breath of the lobby committee today when he frankly stated he thought the smaller states had too much voice in the Senate on tariff legislation.

Sharply questioned by the Senate investigators Grundy said it was a "tragedy" that the states contributing negligible amounts in Federal taxes "and with no chips in the game" could help break down a fundamental economic policy.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, wanted to know how Grundy proposed to silence "Senator Borah and myself for instance," on the tariff bill and the witness said "propriety" should dictate that.

Examined by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, Grundy persisted that he stood by the Republican platform to give agriculture an equality with industry but he disagreed with the Idahoan that it would be necessary to cut down some industrial tariff rates to obtain this equality.

Have Attractive Window Display.

The attractive autumnal setting in the show rooms of James Millard & Son, 106-110 Prince street, is commanding considerable attention. It consists of cornstalks, autumn leaves and several species of birds and animals, including a large eagle. In the background are several Ford models and a Lincoln, for which the firm has the agency. A modern lighting effect makes the display as attractive at night as it is in the daytime. James Millard, Jr., arranged the display.

Books Linked With Homes

"Books" and "home" are indissolubly united in the minds of most people. Indoors on snowy evenings, on warm summer days in the shaded swing, in bed at night when sleep is elusive, they are stanch, reliable friends. Such friends as these should be made to feel at home. They should be housed with a loving care and one should find room to accommodate them at all costs.

King Had to Buy Land

In 2500 B. C. a Babylonian king purchased some tracts of land and had the transaction recorded in precise language on a large dark-green stone. It is worth noting that this king did not concede the land that he wanted but bought it from the owners in a perfectly legal way, which shows how firmly established were the rights of private ownership so many centuries ago.—Boston Herald.

Intersectional Grid Games to Be Played This Week

New York, Oct. 29 (AP).—The most important intersectional state of the current season on Saturday will find the east entrenched in its own territory ready to repel, if possible, attacks from the middle west and the south.

Two western conference teams, Ohio State and Chicago, and two from the southern conference, Florida and Duke, will carry the banners of their section into the more important intersectional fray of the day. Among the lesser lights, Hampden-Sydney, Oglethorpe and South Dakota will invade Atlantic seaboard territory with only Oglethorpe conceding a chance of victory.

Ohio State, unbeaten but tied by Indiana, faces the difficult task of stopping the charge of Pittsburgh's all-conquering Panthers. Florida's alligators, one of the best teams in the southern conference, may have the stuff to down a Harvard aggression perhaps a bit demoralized after the Dartmouth debacle.

Chicago, trounced by Purdue a week ago, may find the Princeton Tiger a little too ferocious after its breath-taking tie with the Navy. Duke, which has fared badly in intersectional games with Pittsburgh, Navy and Villanova, will find Boston College no easier.

Oglethorpe meets the strong Villanova squad, tied only by Boston College. Hampden-Sydney should provide Colgate with no more than a workout and the Army certainly should not be extended by South Dakota. Davis and Elkins and Carnegie Tech travel west for their fun. Davis and Elkins seeks revenge for a 2-0 beating by John Carroll of Cleveland last year. Carnegie expects little trouble with Washington of St. Louis.

Despite this long list of intersectional conflicts, the real thrills of the day probably will be packed in a number of traditional meetings of homebreds. Booth and Marsters, Yale and Dartmouth, looks like one of the most spectacular battles of the year. Navy, which shocked Penn with a 6-0 defeat last season, hopes to repeat over a red and blue team beaten by California and extended in all its other games.

Unbeaten Cornell faces Columbia at Ithaca, hoping for something better than the scoreless ties which have resulted the last two years. Georgetown, a strong defense eleven, looks good enough to repeat the 7-2 licking it administered to New York University a year ago but Holy Cross may turn the tables on Brown which won 6-0 in 1928. Penn State and Syracuse, deadlocked at 6-all last season, hope for a decision one way or another this time. Washington and Jefferson appears much stronger than Lafayette but past performances go by the board when these bitter football rivals meet. Temple, which surprised by holding W. and J. to a scoreless tie last week, confronts another strong rival in Bucknell but Lehigh appears to pack entirely too many guns for Muhlenberg.

Scores Made at Weekly Shoot

Wheeler, Browning, Chaffee, Finch and Coles were all tied with 25 at the Ulster County Gun Club shoot for Ralph Trophy Saturday.

On the shoot-off Finch and Coles were again tied with 23.

Shooting off this tie in the 10 yard event Finch broke 21 to Coles 19 making a first win for Finch.

The full scores:

Finch	25-24-23-21	93
Martin	22-24-24	93
Chaffee	24-24-20	91
Hopkins	25-20	90
Wheeler	21-22-24-22	89
Browning	21-22-24-20	87
Coles	20-21-23-23	87
Caunitz	22-21-21	87

WILL AGAIN TRY TO LEAVE BRITISH TITLE

New York, Oct. 29 (AP).—Glenna Collett, four times winner of the American Women's Golf Championship, has decided to make another attempt to lift the British title, which so far has escaped her. Miss Collett revealed yesterday that she was planning a trip to England next year to play in the British championship.

The journey may result in a feminine golf invasion of Great Britain similar to the ones staged by male golfers.

Miss Collett's brilliant showing in the 1928 championship when she lost the final match to Joyce Wethered prompted her to make another attempt. Last year she covered the first nine holes in 24 strokes, a performance which Bobby Jones has called "one of the finest nine holes of play in any championship." To lead her opponent by four up. She finished the first 18 holes of the match was a 75 but faltered on the next round and lost the match.

FOOTBALL CONTESTS ON SOLDIER FIELD

Chicago, Oct. 29 (AP).—Soldier Field will be the scene of outstanding football contests each Thanksgiving day for 10 years, starting in 1929, under plans of the Chicago unit of the "Warriors' Hospital for Crippled Children."

Judge Walter Steffen of Chicago, commuting coach of the Carnegie Tech eleven, has been named chairman of a committee to schedule games under a plan calling for contests between outstanding teams of the country, the proceeds to go to the Hospitalization Fund.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould.
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Whatever else it may accomplish, the now-famous Carnegie Foundation report on college football recruiting and substituting methods gives just about a "clean bill" to the hitherto much-maligned "Old Grads," who can now give three cheers for the old alma mater without being put under suspicion.

Specifically, the report says: "A common misconception touching the personal recruiting of athletes for intercollegiate competition is that most of the work is done by alumni."

"The facts of our enquiry prove conclusively that this is not the case," the report goes on to say. "Of one hundred and twelve colleges and universities visited, at only a little over thirty per cent was recruiting conducted by alumni. In slightly over half of the cases, it was an affair of the athletic departments and in eight per cent it rested upon administrative, executive or academic officers."

The old grads, at least, have the last laugh.

The Carnegie report set forth in particular the keen rivalry for schoolboy and prep talent among the leading colleges of California. The University of California in its August "C" Bulletin, issued for the benefit of alumni, published a number of letters written by various schoolboy athletes to friends. These were some of the excerpts:

"I have already received some offers of scholarships from other schools, some of them in the conference, and jobs that will pay my expenses through school. My dad cannot see my going to Cal and putting out a lot of money when I can go to several other schools without the cost."

"I don't expect you fellows to hand me a job on a silver platter, but I received a letter from the scholarship board at . . . yesterday stating that I had been granted a full scholarship to . . . Also one of the fraternities have a job for me. So I would be foolish to go to Berkeley under present circumstances unless I was sure of a good job. I still want to go to Berkeley."

"The coach from . . . came up to the park to see me and as a consequence I went to . . . with him. I worked out with the varsity three days and at the end of that period he told me I was a cinch to the varsity. Whether he was kidding I don't know but I rather think I don't for he has called up three times since I've gotten home telling me the same. I also went to . . . with the frosh coach and kicked a little. . . offered me board, room and tuition but really one can't class . . . as a college."

"There is one of the men here at . . . that has a considerable peevishness at the school. He came to . . . with the understanding that he would get a scholarship—being a very good football prospect. During practice he broke his knee and did not get his numeral and they have refused him a scholarship and do not offer any hopes of him getting one until he makes the varsity in his sophomore, junior or senior year."

(From a brother of a promising young athlete: "He wishes to enroll as freshman. The University of . . . insists that he come to . . . to school and has offered as an inducement room, board, tuition and books, provided he play football, of course. I am very desirous of his attending Cal U. if you think there is any possible chance of arranging for his room, board, books."

On the same day that the Carnegie report became public property, Enoch Bagshaw resigned as head football coach at the University at Washington and two Iowa gridiron athletes set forth to disprove charges involving their amateur status. And these are only two of the disturbances.

Bagshaw's difficulties have been long-standing, especially since last season, yet his withdrawal after the Huskies met two stunning reversals at the hands of Southern California and Washington State added significance to the Carnegie report's disclosure that in about 1 out of 10 colleges the football coach's tenure depended on producing winning teams.

KNUTE ROCKNES CONDITION REPORTED WORSE.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 29 (AP).—Rumors were current on the Notre Dame University today that the condition of Knute Rockne, famous football coach had taken a turn for the worse.

An announcement by the university that Rockne's trip last week to Pittsburgh for the Notre Dame-Carnegie game had aggravated his condition and the coach's absence from practice yesterday afternoon were accepted as partial substantiation of the rumors. The Rockne telephone was disconnected last night and no word was forthcoming from the residence as to his condition.

Rockne has suffered for several weeks from an infection in his right leg, but has stuck to his coaching task, directing his team's practice by a radio amplifying set from his enclosed car. Last week he watched the Carnegie game from his wheel chair on the sidelines.

"MASKED MARVEL" AT KASLICH BILLIARD PARLOR

The Coca Cola Company's "Masked Marvel" will pay his second visit to Kingston Thursday evening, October 31, when he will play an exhibition match at pocket billiards with some local player and offer a prize of $25 if he is beaten in a 100 point match.

The match will be played at the billiard parlor of N. Kaslich on Wall street, and the admission to the match is free.

The "Masked Marvel" is the world's champion fancy and trick shot player and on his visit here last year pleased a large number of local pocket billiard enthusiasts.

Badger Captain Guided Tourists, Prefers Grid

Johnny Parks, husky Oklahoma boy who is captain of the University of Wisconsin football team, has a European background. He was a guide for a group of tourists who "did" the continent.

"What did you know about Europe?" he was asked.

"Nothing, but I guided them until the going got pretty tough. Then another fellow took over the guide job and I checked baggage," Parks explained.

The Badger leader spent five nights in Paris, but prefers Madison and Camp Randall stadium as regular haunts.

Fraternity brothers at the Alpha Delta house claim there were several attractive girls in the party which Parks escorted to places that were as new to him as to any of the tourists.

Parks, who is one of the most modest athletes who ever wore a Cardinal Jersey, claims they were all old maids.

Parks would like to make the Badger crew. "I never rowed a shell before my sophomore year, but always wanted to learn," he said.

In his sophomore year, Johnny won his letter in the varsity boat. Last spring football practice kept him out of this sport.

Hamming his head into enemy formations has worn Parks' black locks a trifle thin on top during the last two years, but nobody dares to mention that. It doesn't affect his playing at guard or his princely leadership of the team.

Captain of Irish

Johnny Law as captain and guard of Notre Dame is proving to be a tower of strength to Coach Rockne.

Best Handicap Horses Race at Agua Caliente

The outstanding event of the meeting of the Agua Caliente Jockey club is expected to have some of the best known owners in the East represented by strings of thoroughbreds, according to an announcement from the management.

Jack Campbell is to be the racing secretary and he has interested such cardinals as Willis Sharpe Kilmer, Earl Sende, W. R. Cox, Gifford A. Cochran, the Seagram brothers, and John R. Macomber. Mrs. Graham Fair Vanderbilt and Harry Payne Whitney are also considering sending a small string to the new course which will replace the old Tia Juana track.

The outstanding event of the meeting will be the $100,000 Agua Caliente handicap, which will replace the old Coltrath handicap. San Benito, one of the best handicap horses in the East, and the star of the Kilmer string, is considered a sure starter for this prize.

Putnam County P.-T. Conference

The conference of the presidents and officers of the Parent-Teacher Associations of Putnam County was held on Saturday, October 26, at Putnam, in the new community house opened about two weeks ago in connection with the Presbyterian Church.

After a delicious luncheon served by the Putnam Parent-Teacher Association, the chairman of the Poughkeepsie District, Mrs. Arthur H. Russell of Kingston presided over an informal round table conference where the problems of the various associations were discussed.

Mrs. Russell stated that out of the 520 clubs in New York state, only 21 had reached the standard of excellence set forth in the national handbook. Putnam was one of these clubs and was presented with a certificate.

Among the requirements for this distinction as explained by the district chairman are that 50 per cent of the families in the district should be represented in the membership of the association, there should be a 50 per cent attendance of the membership at the meetings, 10 per cent of the members should subscribe to the Child Welfare magazine, the association should pay annual dues to the state and national associations, at least six meetings should be held during the year and the program should be planned in advance.

The motto for this year's work as given at the New York state convention held in Troy recently was "Worthy Home Membership," and Mrs. Russell gave as some of the qualifications of worthy home membership looking after the health and discipline of the children, giving time, sympathy and advice to them, having confidence in them and faith in their ability, helping to create tasks for them and being fair enough to allow them to tell their side of the question before censuring or punishing them. She urged the formation of pre-school study clubs as habits of children are formed during their first few years of life, also the summer round up work that the children may enter school without health handicaps which may be prevented or corrected. Mrs. Selden H. Hall of Poughkeepsie, State Founders Day chairman, gave suggestions for celebrating February 17, the anniversary of the birth of the P.-T. A. work and explained that last year's $900 offering was to be used for extension work.

Miss Margaret Cordes, secretary of Kingston Federated Council, read the Parent-Teacher creed by Martha Sprague Mason, which follows:

"I believe that a Parent-Teacher

Association should be concerned with all problems that relate to the welfare of the child in home, school and community; that the great object should be to interest all people in all children and to make it common purpose the home, the school and all other educational forces in the life of the child, to work for his highest good; that it should work first toward all school conditions and all town conditions, affecting the child; that it should encourage all individuals and conditions which make for the growth and safety of the child; that it should work actively to supply the school and community needs by creating a public sentiment which shall favor and provide good teachers, good school equipment and adequate recreation for leisure time; that it should give services to the home by training for parenthood and home-making; and to the school by adding new power to school power; that it should not be a means of entertainment or charity or criticism of school authority, but a cooperative, non-political, non-sectarian, non-commercial effort to produce American citizens who shall be strong in body, alert in mind and sound in character, capable of perpetuating the best which has been developed in our national life; that the principles which guide the Parent-Teacher Association are the embodiment of social service, civic virtue and patriotism.

The district secretary, Mrs. W. R. Anderson, of Kingston, explained the importance of the questionnaires sent out by the state being filled out and returned by the date requested in order that data taken from them may be printed in the district minutes. The district chairman spoke of the importance of this data coming in on time for her state report.

The Dutchess county conference will be held on Friday, November 1, at the City Club in Poughkeepsie.

MEETING OF ROSENDALE HOME SERVICE CLASS.

The third lesson in the fall series given by the home service bureau of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, the "Magic Dinner", will be given in regular class by Miss Elizabeth Plank, home service director, at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, October 31, in the Rosendale office of the Central Hudson.

The magical part of the dinner consists of the homemaker's ability to be miles away for hours at a time, to entertain guests in her own home without "pot-watching", or to occupy her time in any desired way without having to interrupt her pursuits with dinner preparation.

An entire menu will be demonstrated at the class and recipe sheets will be distributed giving menus, complete with recipes, for preparation by this modern cooking magic. These classes are open without charge to the women of this community and vicinity.

3 Charged With Theft of Auto

Highland Youth Picked Up at Gayhead, Greene County, Are Brought to Jail Here by State Troopers.

Nicholas Zort, 19, known as Fred Thompson, Walter Isacher, 16, and Marcinet Collins, 16, all of Highland, were brought to the county jail Monday evening by Sergeant John Lockhart and Corporal Baker of the State Troopers. The three are charged with having taken an automobile at Highland a few days ago, the joy ride ending near Gayhead, Greene county, when they were picked up after Corporal Baker had trailed them to Catskill and a warning had been issued to watch out for them.

According to one of the men there were four in the party when it started out. The fourth one was Helen Eppelet, 14, of Poughkeepsie. According to the story told the quartet were in Highland and after a movie show one of the party secured an automobile which later was found to be the property of Walter Beaman. He invited the others to go for a ride with him. They drove toward Clintondale in the car and after driving about four miles the car, a Buick, refused to run. They returned to the Seaman garage and took a Chevrolet coach and started again toward New Paltz. Helen Eppelet became frightened and left the party and then the three headed toward Catskill.

At Gayhead one of the party met a couple of young men he knew and they all went for a ride in the Chevrolet car. Later when they developed tire trouble they returned to the home of their friend where one of the young men had worked at some prior time. When no one was about they rolled the new Ford car of the Tischler family out of the garage and pushed it up the road a quarter of a mile before attempting to start it. It was locked and after an effort to start it by taking the switch apart they abandoned the car on the road and returned to their Chevrolet car some distance up the road, where they sat during the night until an officer arrested them. They were held until the Troopers arrived to return them to Ulster county. Zort formerly came from Schenectady and according to police records was involved in the taking of a car there about two years ago.

Pilot Burns to Death in Crash

Mount Vernon, Ohio, Oct. 23 (AP).—E. M. Kane, pilot of the south-bound Cleveland-Louisville mail plane of the Universal Line, was burned to death early today when his plane crashed into a grove of trees on a farm eight miles southwest of Mount Vernon.

Kane, according to farmers living where the ship crashed, apparently had lost his way in a dense fog. They first heard the ship, seemingly flying in circles, about 5:46 a. m. the drone of the plane's motors suddenly ceased and a few minutes later they saw a blaze in a patch of woods on the farm of Elmer Higgins.

When they reached the scene, the plane was ablaze and they were unable to reach the pilot, who was burned beyond recognition. Most of the mail which Kane carried was destroyed. The remainder was taken to Mount Vernon and forwarded to its destination.

THE HOME OF RADIO SERVICE

You Can Buy a Radio Any Place But—

AFTER your radio has been delivered and installed, suppose something goes wrong. That's what you want to keep in mind when you buy your set. Here you get service, unequalled for efficiency, promptness and courtesy long after your set has been paid for.

Why buy just a radio when you can come here and buy the best radios made with HERZOG'S super-service which does not cost you any more? Among the new sets we recommend the

Victor - Majestic - Crosley

The Big Three of the Radio World.

WE HAVE SEVERAL USED ALL ELECTRIC SETS AND GOOD BATTERY SETS
VERY REASONABLE.

Small Down Payment and Twelve Months to Pay.
